

To every family facing the unimaginable journey of DIPG: You are not alone. Though this battle is steeped in uncertainty and heartbreak, your strength, love, and unwavering hope light the path forward. In each precious moment, your courage speaks louder than fear. Know that a community stands beside you—lifting you up in prayer, fighting for progress, and believing fiercely in the promise of a brighter tomorrow. Hold onto hope—it is the heartbeat of everything yet to come.

Need help with something or have a question? Email me!

September is Pediatric Cancer Awareness Month

help us honor and remember

We are working on some special projects for Pediatric Cancer Awareness Month and would love to include your warrior or angel!

If you would like them included in our special projects in September please email (kstegmueller@marcjr.org) a photo along with:

First name, last initial

Type of cancer

Fighting, Angel, in remission

Forever (age) if angel or Age if fighting

Include a hashtag if you would like

Click Photo for link to current trials in the US.

Did You Know....

Brain tumors can cause light sensitivity. Wearing sunglasses to watch fireworks is a great idea for light sensitivity issues.